Social and Emotional Learning within DPS

In Denver Public Schools, social and emotional learning (SEL) “is the process through which children and adults acquire and effectively apply the knowledge, attitudes, and skills necessary to understand and manage emotions, set and achieve positive goals, feel and show empathy for others, establish and maintain positive relationships, and make responsible decisions.” (CASEL 2011)

Further, social-emotional learning is of critical importance in achieving our value of equity and closing the opportunity gap by ensuring all our students have the knowledge, attitude, and skills necessary to succeed now and in the future.
